SkinCeuticals AOX Lip Complex

SkinCeuticals AOX Lip Complex is a new product I've been trying recently and I really love this. In general I would feel that a lip balm is a lip balm but this is more than that, it's like a treatment for your lips. I would normally find my lips sore and peeling during the winter but since I started using this once at night I've had no peeling and lipstick still looks good on. My only minor gripe is the dispenser at the top of the tube pumps out too much so I feel like I'm wasting product and given the price I don't want to do that.
